Trifast plc continue to operate a zero tolerance approach to slavery and human trafficking.

We remain committed to eradicating any and all forms of slavery or human trafficking in line with the Modern Slavery Act 2015. We expect the same from our customers, suppliers, distributors, contractors and other suppliers of goods and services all around the globe.

All Trifast colleagues sign up to our Corporate Code of Conduct, which comprises the policies that ensure ethical business practice and also contains our core values.

Supply Chain

TR Fastenings has an extensive global network of suppliers, ranging from small private limited companies to large multinational companies. We aim to eliminate, as far as possible, the risk of modern slavery within this supply chain and to trade both ethically and with integrity.

Our approach to managing potential modern slavery activities within our supply chain is to audit to raise awareness of the issue and to investigate for any examples of areas of concern. We do this through a proactive audit process which identifies suppliers who could be classified as being a potential higher risk. These potential higher risk suppliers and our identified key suppliers are audited by our team of supplier quality engineers. We aim to undertake these audits on an annual basis.

Additionally, we require identified lower risk suppliers to engage in a self-assessment audit, in which they declare and confirm that they are working in agreement with the principles and values in our Code of Conduct.

Our employees who interact with our supply chain have been identified and trained on the risks of modern slavery and are aware of how to escalate any concerns identified, without fear of repercussion.
