The Ukraine Situation

To whom in may concern.

Our thoughts in the first instance go out to all that are now caught up in this difficult and heartbreaking situation. We hope that it will be resolved swiftly through negotiation, as we too have colleagues and customers with connections in both countries.

However, it was inevitable that we would have communications today from concerned Customers asking if there would be any impact to our Supply Chain.

We can reassure you that we do not source product from either country, or transit any product through these areas, including Belarus.

We hope that allays any fears that you may have.

Yours sincerely
